GOLD BLOC LOST BATTLE TO BAR MONETARY TALK

A Sub-Committee Voted Against France's Thesis Today

London, July 7—(AP)—The European gold bloc lost its fight for exclusion of monetary questions from the renovated agenda of the world economic conference today when the subcommittee on immediate measures for financial reconstruction voted 25 to 15 to continue to discuss monetary problems.

The vote came after an all day battle over the proposal by Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, that the full agenda be continued including the monetary matters which the gold countries have been fiercely opposing.

The British Dominions, Scandinavia and the countries of the far east and Latin America lined up almost solidly with Chamberlain's position which supports the American thesis.

Among those supporting the gold bloc in demanding elimination of monetary questions until currency stabilization should be accomplished were Spain, Lithuania, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Turkey.

In Sub-Committee Today's decision which was in a sub-committee of the monetary commission will be reported to the steering committee Monday for confirmation or reversal.

The committee on commercial policy, a subordinate group of the economic commission, voted a few hours earlier to exclude discussion of tariffs and quotas from the revised agenda, approving a French demand by eight to seven voices.

The American delegation, although beaten temporarily on the question of treating tariffs and quotas, hoped to reverse this decision in the steering committee.

France and other members of the gold bloc flatly refused to discuss tariffs, arguing that they involved monetary questions.

MINNESOTA LAW ON MORTGAGES IS HELD LEGAL

Two Year Mortgage Relief Bill Passed By Supreme Court

St. Paul, July 7—(AP)—The Minnesota State Supreme Court in a six to one decision today upheld as constitutional the two-year emergency mortgage foreclosure relief act passed by the 1933 legislature.

Economic conditions justified the law, the court ruled, even though it runs counter to article one of the Federal constitution.

At the same time, the court held that Gov. Floyd B. Olson had exceeded his powers in issuing a mortgage moratorium order which expired last May 1, but that the legislature had validated his act by a curative law.

The law upheld provides three remedies for the relief of owners of land sold on mortgage foreclosures. They are: the owner of the land may, by court order, stop foreclosures by advertisement and compel the foreclosure to proceed under the protection of the court; the land owner may by court order secure extension of time to allow for redemption to a date not later than May 1, 1935; and suits cannot be brought for deficiency judgments during the time allowed for redemptions.

In a dissenting opinion, Associate Justice R. A. Stone said the law "openly violates the due process and equal protection of law guarantees of both Federal and state constitutions."

Two Killed When Crack Train Hit Farm Stock Truck

Chicago, July 7—The Grand Trunk railroad's steam locomotive, speeding toward Chicago from Montreal, crashed into a truck at a Lansing, Ill., crossing today and killed two men identified as Ford Chamberlain, 55, an Robert E. Russell, 45, Morocco, Ind., farmers.

The train was traveling at high speed when the accident occurred, and the truck became wedged under the front of the locomotive. The passengers were delayed several hours while a wrecking crew was summoned.

Fred Vandersgriff of Battle Creek, Mich., the locomotive engineer, said the wreckage jammed his air brakes and it was impossible to bring the train to a stop for a half mile. Then the train could not be started again because of the tangled under the wheels.

A half dozen sheep in the truck were killed, the rest scattering over the countryside.

REP. GRIGSBY'S VOTE WAS LEGAL SAYS ATTY. GEN.

His Right to Hold Seat Doesn't Affect Measures He Voted For

Springfield, Ill., July 7—(AP)—The questioned right of one state Representative—Rodman E. Grigsby, Blandinsville Democrat—to hold his seat, will not affect the validity of measures for which he voted during the recent legislative session, Attorney General Otto Kerner said today.

Grigsby, an oil dealer, was indebted to the state at the start of the session for $4,674.85 in gasoline tax revenues which he had collected but not turned over to the Department of Finance.

The question about Grigsby's vote arose from the constitutional provision that no one who is indebted to the state can hold public office.

Kerner said that efforts have been started to collect the balance of Grigsby's account from his bonding company. He paid $3,550 of the amount due in January.

Serving his first term, Grigsby voted with the Horner administration on the two sales tax bills and on other issues which got a House majority after a hard fight.

The Attorney General said that since formal protest had not been entered concerning Grigsby's right to hold his seat in the House, the Blandinsville Democrat was a de facto member of the House and his vote would not affect legislation passed during the session.

HALF BILLION IS OUTRIGHT GIFT TO UNEMPLOYED

Is Allotted to States That Need It and Will Not Be Repaid

Washington, July 7—(AP)—One distinct departure from practices of the immediate past made by the last session of Congress was the government's handling of unemployment relief.

Despite all the steps being taken to restore employment, the necessity of caring for the millions still without jobs was apparent. The administration had congress pass a law making available $500,000,000 to be distributed for this purpose among the states of the union.

Similar funds had been available before but this money is given to the states outright and need not be repaid. The treasury and the national taxpayer just contribute the sum.

Instead of having the outlays handled by the reconstruction corporation, one man, the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator, was put in charge. His job is to see that the money goes where it is needed and that states and local communities contribute their share; to encourage the substitution of "work relief" (disbursement of cash and food for useful work) or doles, and, wherever possible, to get people off the relief rolls altogether and into production employment.

To stimulate the states and communities to do their share, one half of the total half billion to be dealt out now only on a basis of $1 for each $3 of public money contributed locally.

The other quarter billion has no restrictions on it, except that before getting any the states must show definite and urgent need. After October 1, this year, all remaining of the entire fund may be disbursed without matching. In any case no state may receive more than 15 per cent of the total.

Second Alleged Auto Thief Is Apprehended In Moline; Now In Lee Co. Jail Waiting Inquest

Chief of Police John D. VanBibber and Officer Harry Fisher went to Moline Thursday afternoon, returning with Gilbert Thorpe, alleged accomplice of Kenneth Carlson in the theft of a car belonging to the P. X. Newcomer Co. from the city's parking space on the river bank on Wednesday, June 23. Thorpe made his getaway when the Moline police apprehended Carlson in the stolen car a week ago today, but the officers kept watch of his rooming house and notified him when he returned to it yesterday.

This morning he was taken before Justice of the Peace Grover W. Gehant, where he waived preliminary examination, with the result that he was held to the September grand jury under bonds of $2,000, which he could not furnish and accordingly was remanded to the county jail. Thorpe is said to have made a lengthy statement to Chief VanBibber admitting his part in the theft of the Dixon car and also in one from the streets of Princeton which was abandoned in this city. Thorpe is reported to have told the Chief he is a fugitive from the Iowa State Training School for Boys at Elora.

HIGH WHEAT PUTS BREAD PRICES UP ONE CENT MONDAY

Federal Processing Tax and Soaring Prices Force Costs Up

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—The price of bread will be raised a cent a loaf in Illinois beginning next Monday as a means of enabling bakers to meet the new federal processing tax of 30 cents a bushel on wheat and soaring price of the grain.

The increase was decided upon yesterday at a meeting of local and downstate bakers and was announced by E. A. Wilsher, president of the Chicago Bakers' Club. He said four Chicago bakers who did not send representatives would be consulted today.

In Chicago 12-ounce loaves will sell for six cents while the present price of 10 cents for large loaves will continue with the weight reduced from 24 to 20 ounces.

Downstate it is expected that 16 ounce loaves will retail at six cents and 24-ounce loaves at 10 cents. The difference in weight—and price—between Cook county and the balance of the state is represented in the variance in labor costs, the bakers said.

As an example, Wilsher said downstate delivery truck drivers are paid $18 a week while the scale in Chicago is $43. Other labor costs are in proportion.

Wilsher said the increase in retail prices would enable his plant, the Gordon Baking Company, to raise wages of all employees Monday.

Dixon Woman Will Face Sanity Hearing Late This P. M.

Mrs. Sylvia Cliphant-Ringenberger, 418 E. River street, was to be arraigned in the County Court this afternoon for sanity hearing, following her being taken into custody late yesterday afternoon on Galena avenue by Sheriff Fred Richardson and State Highway Officer Edward Mahan. When apprehended by the officials she was parading the street in a burlap sack over her dress, a cloth over her face and a large basket tied on her shoulders.

She apparently is mentally unbalanced on the subject of religion and is said to have converted her home into a "chapel," tearing out all the partitions, painting a large cross on the front wall and lettering a sign "The House of David" over the entrance. For several weeks, she told the Sheriff, she has been fasting for the Israelites.

Her hearing was to be called at the completion of the contested sanity hearing of George Ikens vs. Eileen Ikens, Lee Center, in which State Attorney Edward Jones and Mark C. Keller are the opposing counsel.

She pleaded guilty here yesterday in circuit court to slaying Waldemar Sadoski, the man in the affair. Mrs. Bernhard escaped the St. Clair county hospital last December and finally was recaptured in Kansas City, Kas., June 2.

The Governor spoke of "long established and deep-seated friendly relations which exist between Italy and the United States."

Aviator, Missing Since June 14, Sends Personal Message From Obscure Trading Post In Siberia Telling Of His Safety

Had Been Unreported Longer Than Any Other Aviator

Safe In Siberian Hamlet

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jimmie Matter, world flier given up for dead by all but a trusting few, is safe in Siberia.

From the little trading post of Anadir brief word came today that the aviator who disappeared on June 14 while making the first solo flight around the world in aviation history was safe.

The good news was dispatched by the flier himself, relayed across the wastes of Siberia to Moscow and sent on from there to his homeland.

"Safe, Anadir, Chukotka, Siberia," the message read, and it was signed "Jimmie Matter."

Matter's wife on the west coast had never lost her faith that he was still alive. Nor had his mother in Freeport, Ill., or his backers in Chicago.

Loved Ones Confident "I was confident all the while," said the mother. "I knew he was safe all the time," said the wife.

"We always had confidence," said the backers.

The unwavering hope of this little band of persons was shared by the United States Coast Guard. When Matter's announcement of his safety was received the Coast Guard in Washington disclosed that ever since the flier disappeared while on the way from Siberia to Alaska the Coast Guard cutter Northland had been searching Alaskan waters for him.

Today word was sent to the Northland of Matter's safety and officials expected the cutter to be in touch with the flier some time today.

Only one message was received from Matter, and that had taken two days to be relayed to civilization, so that no details were known. It was not known whether he crashed or was merely forced down, or how far he had to travel to reach the little trading post from which he sent out his message to the world.

Johnson Warns New Collapse Might Result

Says Industry Must Act Promptly To Increase Buying Power

Washington, July 7—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, warned today that unless industry moved promptly to increase purchasing power through increased wages to counterbalance the increased "speculative production" a new collapse might result.

Johnson said in an interview that many industries had stepped up production largely to supply a speculative buyer's market and he added that "unless the ability of the public to buy is increased correspondingly, the market will not be there."

"We can't come along here with increased purchasing power to support this higher production," Johnson said. "I shudder to think what will happen. This country can't stand a new collapse."

The administrator added, however, that he believed a number of the basic industries would be ready to present codes within a brief time designed to increase wages and spread work.

BIG DAMAGES TO ROCKFORDITE IN FALSE VERDICT

Attorney North Loses $29,000 Suit: Was Olson's Defender

Rockford, Ill., July 7—(AP)—Henry T. Olson, who fled into hiding six years ago rather than serve a life term in prison for a crime he did not commit, won a $29,250 verdict today for damages from the attorney who defended him.

Olson charged that Harry B. North, a former states attorney and his defender in a murder trial in 1927 known at the time that two boys had committed the murder and failed to bring it up at the trial.

The verdict, returned before Judge William J. Fulton in circuit court, was one of the largest damage awards on record in Winnebago county. The trial, bitterly fought, had proceeded for ten days and a sealed verdict was given by the jury last night.

It was on the night of Sept. 6, 1927 that Floyd Stotler was slain in a robbery of his gasoline filling station. Olson was arrested, charged with murder, and Orville Stotler, father of the dead man, identified him at the trial as the slayer. On first trial the jury disagreed but the second jury that heard the case declared him guilty, and Olson was sentenced to life imprisonment at Joliet penitentiary.

While a motion for a new trial was pending, Olson unable to prove his innocence and determined not to waste his life in prison, vanished. He forfeited his $10,000 bond.

He was living in seclusion in New Orleans when two boys, (Continued on Page 2)

TWO AMERICANS TIE IN BRITISH OPEN THIS MORN

Shute And Wood Will Play 72 Holes For Title Tomorrow

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 7—(AP)—Two American professionals Denmore Shute of Philadelphia and Craig Wood of Deak, New Jersey, today tied for the British open golf championship with totals of 292 each for the 72 holes in one of the most spectacular finishes in the tournament's history.

Shute and Wood will play off at 36 holes tomorrow for the title lost by Gene Sarazen by a single stroke.

This is the first playoff in the British open since 1921 when Jock Hutchison beat Roger Wethered.

Last British Hope Syed Easterbrook, last hope of the British homebreds, failed in final challenge to the leaders after a day of startling disaster to some of the greatest shot makers in golf.

Easterbrook took a 77 for his last round and fell just a stroke short of tying Wood and Shute. His total of 293 put the Briton in a tie for third place with Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel as the Americans took four of the first five places in a riotous finishing drive.

No. 11 Jinx Hole A seven on No. 14—the day's jinx hole for many favorites—cost Easterbrook his chance for at least a tie, just as an eight for Sarazen on the same hole cost the champion another triumph. On the same hole in the morning a 7 started Walter Hagen's blowup. Hagen took an 82 on his last round for a total of 301, after leading the field for two days.

Shute had four 73s, even par all the way, for his aggregate of 292, while Wood shot 77-72-68-75. Their tie assured the visit of the British open trophy to the U. S. A. for the tenth straight year.

Factor Is Still Missing As Rumors Concerning Him Gain Wide Circulation During Day

BULLETIN

San Antonio, Tex., July 7—(AP)—John Factor, kidnaped Chicago stock broker, and Murray Humphries, reputed head of the Capone gang syndicate, were sought here today after reports came from Chicago that they were headed for Mexico.

Charles Davis Department of Justice Investigator here, asked police to hunt a roadster in which the pair was believed to be traveling. Davis said he received a telephone message from federal investigators which informed him Factor and Humphries would pass through San Antonio en route to the southern republic.

Authorities expressed the theory Factor was going to Mexico to escape extradition to England to face charges of stock swindling pending against him there.

Davis notified all border points of the report.

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—John Factor, the market speculator, is still missing.

PROFIT-TAKING HITS EXCHANGE AND GRAIN PITS

Wheat Quotations Pulled Down From Over The Dollar Mark

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—All deliveries of wheat sold at a dollar a bushel or better today for the first time this year. Wheat and corn were both swept to the season's highest price levels soon after trading started because of the nose dive of the American dollar and the rise of the British pound sterling.

Sharp reactions followed the upturns, based chiefly on heavy profit taking and timely rains in parts of the corn belt. May wheat reached a peak of $1.10 1/4.

Closing prices were at or near the lowest levels of the day. Wheat was as much as 1 1/2 cent under yesterday's close and corn was down as much as 2 1/2 cents. The early advance had carried the July delivery to $1.00 1/4 a bushel, the first time this delivery had reached the dollar mark. However, at the close, July had dropped to 96 1/2 cents and the May had fallen to $1.02 1/4.

All deliveries of corn managed to stay above 60 cents at the close, even though sharply lower. July was 60 1/2, and May 74.

The heavy sales to collect profits were partly caused by the unsettled action of foreign exchange with speculators unwilling to hold offerings longer.

WALL STREET BUSY

New York, July 7—(AP)—Profit taking today stemmed one of the most buoyant stock market sessions of the year, but leading issues, after cancelling earlier profits of 1 to 4 or more points, turned around in the last few minutes and regained some of the yielded territory. The close was moderately irregular. Approximately 7,000,000 shares changed hands.

Many gains of $1 to more than $3 a share were recorded by the toiling ticker after a strenuous opening which saw blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares of leading issues change hands, and the tape soon fell eleven minutes in arrears.

Meanwhile, dollar exchange was strapping new bottom levels, sterling shot up 16 1/2 cents to $4.73 compared with its gold parity of 4.86 1/2, while French francs jumped fourteen hundredths of a cent to 5.59 cents.

Commodities Strong Commodity markets were strong. Most of the wheat and corn deliveries opened 1 to 2 cents higher at Chicago, while cotton here had initial advances of 50 to 70 cents a bale.

Buying shares was well distributed, though rails had something of an edge on other groups. Great Northern opened with a 4,000 share block at $33.75, up $2.75. New York Central doubled an initial gain of $1, selling at $58, while Pennsylvania rose $1 to about $41 and Santa Fe had an equal rise to $89 a share.

United States Steel common was strong and active, soaring to $65.15, up $1.75. General Motors opened with a 10,000 share transaction at $32.87, up 37 cents. American Telephone lifted $1.50 to $133.50. Du Pont 27.75 to $88.75, Consolidated Gas of New York $2.25 to $62.82, Case $1.75 to $1.00 and Johns-Manville $1.50 to $58.50.

Joliet, Ill., July 7—(AP)—The price of milk was increased to 10 cents a quart from 9 cents, in Joliet today. The new price schedule was expected to end a strike by milk wagon drivers over low wages. AVIATOR MISSING
SINCE JUNE 14

Khabarovsk on a hop to Nome, Alaska.

Mattern started his flight around the world from Floyd Bennett field here on the morning of June 3, 1931.
He made his first landing twenty-four hours later off the Coast of Norway. From there he flew to Oslo, thence to Moscow and on June 5
took off on the long flight over Siberia. The next day he reached Omsk and after a stop of 12 hours took off again.

He was unreported for more than 24 hours but it was finally learned that he was forced down by motor trouble and that the plane's tail was damaged in landing. He analyzed Khabarovsk on June 10,
one week after he left New York.

He started for Nome, Alaska, on June 12, but was forced to back-track because of bad weather. He hopped on his second attempt to reach Nome on June 15 and was unreported from that time.

Native Of Freeport
Mattern, a native of Freeport, Ill., was attempting to break the world flight record of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty of 8 days, 15 hours and 51 minutes.

His plane "Century of Progress" was a monoplane with a bullet shaped body, carrying 700 gallons of gasoline, sufficient for a 28 hour flight. His gas tanks were the same used by Post and Gatty in their record-breaking flight.

Several days after Mattern had been missing, Jack Clark, his representative, expressed the belief it might be three weeks or more before word from the flier would be received. At that time Clark said he believed Mattern had landed at some inaccessible spot in Siberia.

On June 29, a rescue expedition headed by Bill Alexander, former Alaskan test pilot, started off from Floyd Bennett field to search for Mattern. The rescue plane reached Terrace, B. C. where it was held by bad weather.

Mattern, whose previous attempt to circle the globe, ended when he and Bennett Griffin cracked up in Russia, was unreported on the present flight longer than any other long distance flier.

WIFE OVERJOYED
Walla Walla, Wash., July 7—(AP)—"That's the news I've been waiting for! Isn't it just wonderful?
I knew he was safe all the time."
Miss Janet Mattern thus greeted news from The Associated Press that her flying husband had been reported found in northeastern Siberia today.

"Jimmy always has the faculty of taking care of himself," Mrs. Mattern said proudly.

PLANE IS OFFERED
Terrace, B. C., July 7—(AP)—Advised that Jimmie Mattern had been rescued at Anadir, Siberia, William Alexander asked that Mattern be informed that the rescue plane, in which Alexander and three others are en-route north, was at his disposal.

The members of the E-Z Twelve Club were delightfully entertained in Sterling last evening at the home of Mrs. L. J. Kunch. SLIP COVER BINDINGS KEY TO HARMONY
The binding you use on your summer slip covers is the key to having colors harmonize in a room. Have a printed cover on one chair and use a solid colored binding. A second chair can be the identical color of the binding and a third chair, or the divan, can be covered with striped material to match both the first print and the binding.

MRS. MASON ENTERTAINED CLUB
Mrs. B. F. Mason of Amboy delightfully entertained the Contract Bridge club at her home Tuesday with a 1 o'clock luncheon. Mrs. W. J. Leake had high score. Mrs. B. F. Mason, second and Mrs. Charles Berkeley, low. The club will not meet again until October.

Epworth League Penny Carnival

You're coming to the Epworth League Penny Carnival, aren't you? I wouldn't miss it for anything! There are going to be snakes (found in the jungles), a wild woman from Borneo, and everything imaginable in the side-show. But, really, the works of art are extraordinary! There have been assembled examples of the marvelous sculpturing and painting works of our budding young local artists. The art gallery is really worth your while. Confidentially, I heard that there was to be a noted fortune teller at the carnival, disguised and who will read the crystal for you at a small fraction of her regular price.

There are countless other attractions that I have been told to "keep under my hat," but you will surely come and see them all for yourself.

Don't forget, I'll be seeing you at the Epworth League Penny Carnival in the Methodist church tonight at 7:30. You can stay until 10:30 if you like.

Dr. Ray, Missionary and Author to Speak

Dr. G. Whitfield Ray will speak on his thirty-two years' experience exploring in South America Sunday afternoon at the Franklin Grove Assembly.

Dr. Ray went to South America as a protestant missionary, but in addition to his experience he served the Republic of Brazil as an explorer. He spent fifteen years in this work in the jungles and mountains. He has traveled as long as thirty days without seeing any human beings. Among scientific men he is known as "The Living Republic of South America." He is author of the volume "Through Five Republics on Horseback." He brings to his lecture a collection of interesting things from the jungles. He has with him the skins of the longest snakes ever captured. This lecture, is free, of course, and will be given at 3 o'clock. All are invited.

LEAVE FOR HOME IN NIAGARA FALLS
Mr. and Mrs. George Hewitt of Niagara Falls, N. Y., who have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morris in Franklin Grove, left last evening for their home, stopping enroute in Chicago for a few days to visit friends and attend the World's Fair. Mr. Hewitt is Mrs. Morris' brother.

Cellophane Is Personal Choice of Nicole, French Milliner

Nicole, the French milliner who has many of New York's smartest women, will look at her native Paris, not through a looking glass, but through cellophane. Leaving on the Ile de France, Nicole wore a little beret, gauntlet gloves, a shoulder flower and envelope purse, all made of shining black cellophane, which contrasted handsomely with the white crepe-topped, black satin dress, topped by a black coat, in which she sailed.

Many Plan on Visiting Grand Detour Exhibit Now Open

Many Dixonites, and people from this vicinity are planning on motoring to lovely old Grand Detour either today, tomorrow or Sunday to view the artists' exhibit in Illinois Hall by Holger Jensen, John Nolf, Oscar Soelner, J. Theodore Johnson and Agnes Howell Ferguson to be held these three days. Dr. Hewitt, by the way, has loaned the use of the hall and Howard Hall of Dixon has loaned one of his radios. The exhibit is for the benefit of historic St. Peter's church in Grand Detour and sponsored by the people of the church and by St. Agnes Guild of Dixon.

The annual pilgrimage of northern Illinois Episcopalians to St. Peter's church will be made Sunday in observance of the eighty-fourth anniversary of its building, and the "pilgrims" will, of course, be especially interested in seeing the paintings of the church. The show will be open Sunday afternoon and evening except during the service.

The only woman artist exhibiting is Mrs. R. M. Ferguson (Agnes Howell Ferguson) of Dixon, a member of St. Agnes Guild and president of the auxiliary of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Dixon, who is acting as general chairman for the affair. Those who saw Mrs. Ferguson's "The Old House at Grand Detour" when she exhibited it in Rockford last spring and won an honorable mention in viewing more of her work. Be sure to see her boy's head, "Disappointment," and "At Home in Grand Detour." She has been studying with Mr. Nolf.

Mrs. Lester Wilhelm, president of St. Agnes guild of St. Luke's at Dixon assisted Mrs. Ferguson, the Jensens, Mr. Nolf, and the Rev. A. R. Whitcombe, pastor of St. Peter's church yesterday. Mrs. Wilhelm also directs the Junior choir of St. Luke's church which will sing for the pilgrimage service Sunday.

Women who will assist as hostesses today are Mmes. Robert Warner, Wilson Dysart, Robert Shaw, Winston Edwards, George Hawley, Werner Marloth, James Clefda, A. Lord, William Covert and I. A.

AND NOW THE OLDER FOLK ARE CURIOUS
Tonight the young people of the Epworth League are to know the older people of the Methodist church some things that the older people did not know the young people knew. There are many secrets, but they are all hid away in the cool basement rooms of the church until the proper time to spring them. Everyone is invited. The program begins at 8 o'clock.

Frerick-Huyett Wedding Thursday

At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church, a quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized when Henry G. Frerick, and Miss Inez Mae Huyett, both of Nachusa township, were united in marriage, the pastor of the church, Rev. Lloyd Warren Walter officiating at the impressive ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Boos of Dixon attended the young couple. The bride was becomingly gowned in rose crepe with hat, and accessories in white. Mrs. Boos wore a simple gown in white. After the ceremony light refreshments were served at the Boos home to the immediate relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frerick who are an estimable and popular young couple, will make their home on the farm, the bride's father, John Huyett in Nachusa township. They are followed by the best wishes of hosts of friends.

Meeting of Prairieville Social Circle

The Prairieville Social Circle met in an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Reed of Prairieville last Wednesday, July 5th.

Before dinner several members assembled on the lawn to finish a quilt for Mrs. Reed, their hostess and fellow worker.

There were eighteen members, eighteen children and six guests present. After dinner the business meeting was held after which a very enjoyable hour was spent.

Music by Miriam Harms, Arleen Wechler and Miss Marian Myers, also a song by Miss Meyers, was the chief source of entertainment.

There will be just one meeting in August. This will be held Wednesday, Aug. 9th, at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Myers of Prairieville.

The Grace Evangelical Christian Endeavor of Dixon is sending three young women, Misses Valoris Williams, Melvina Reuter and Mildred Hartman to the convention in Milwaukee. The young ladies will leave Dixon early Sunday morning to attend.

ARE GUESTS AT REV. WALTER HOME

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith of Winchester, Va., are guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Walter at the Lutheran parsonage. Mr. Smith, who by the way is the "Clerk of the Court," as they phrase it in Virginia, is the brother of Mrs. Walter. The Walters and the Smiths anticipate a visit to the World's Fair during the stay of the Smiths in Dixon.

Sensible, Tempting Picnic Sandwiches

The right sort of sandwiches, fresh fruit and a drink of some kind can be made to serve as an adequate and nourishing luncheon. When a sandwich is to form the real "piece de resistance," it should be substantial and both the filling and the bread should be thicker than that in the tea sandwich.

The picnic of sandwiches and fruit has many points in its favor. It does not mean the packing and unpacking of baskets, no dishes are to be washed at home and no scraps are to be disposed of when the lunch is eaten. The real picnic meal requires as much planning and preparation as any meal for a special occasion and means time and effort for the housekeeper.

Choose "Hardy" Sandwiches
There are certain kinds of sandwiches that will endure several hours of packing and jolting and heat and still be palatable. Others are ruined after an hour's standing. Meat sandwiches, plain cheese, olive and nut, many vegetable sandwiches and some sweet ones are "hardy" and will stand much. But tomato, cucumber and some varieties of cheese, delicious as they are, are best served on the porch or in the garden.

Various kinds of breads are good and are of great value in adding variety to the menu.

A thin coating of butter should always be spread on one side of each slice of bread. Butter not only materially increases the food value of the sandwich, but also aids in preventing the bread from absorbing the filling. Crisp lettuce leaves are another aid in keeping the filling from soaking into the bread, making it soggy.

Wrap Them Carefully
Meat sandwiches need lettuce for another reason. The lettuce furnishes the green vegetable so necessary and adds bulk to the diet. Trim lettuce carefully so that it just fits the bread and there will be no unappetizing wilted edges.

The careful wrapping of sandwiches is most important because both bread and fillings keep moist and palatable if air is excluded.

Finely minced cabbage, celery and carrot sandwiches may be given to quite small children. Cottage cheese and jelly put between graham bread will be good for small folks. Finely chopped prunes combined with peanut butter is another popular mixture with juniors. With milk and fruit even four-year-olds can find a picnic not at all upsetting if the sandwiches are wisely chosen.

VACATION COOKS

It was a sad tale, mates, that came from the good ship Amberjack off the Maine coast the other day. It wasn't merely being fog-bound when the skipper wanted to get on. The skipper and his crew are good enough sailors to stand that, whiling away the time by spinning yarns and splicing ropes and mending sails and polishing brass, and one thing and another. But there was a real grievance, and one quite in keeping with sea tradition.

The skipper and his officers were tired of the grub. The regular cook—who was an amateur, but pretty good—was off on furlough. The Captain awes getting pretty gossamed tired of scrambled eggs and stale bread.

We trust that crisis is now safely past. But it is a reminder of the most common handicap of cruising, whether by fresh or salt water, and likewise a plague of fishing and camping parties. The cooking business comes to be a burden both to the cook and his victims.

That is because the cook is nearly always an amateur, who resents his slavery and wants to have a good time, as he imagines the others are doing. Where the treasury can stand it, better have a professional cook.

MOLEY CARRIES THE BALL

The sudden departure of Assistant Secretary Raymond Moley for the London conference, after a dramatic last-minute conference with President Roosevelt off the Massachusetts capes, is the sort of event that ought to appeal deeply to the foot ball fan.

It all looks, somehow, very much like that tense moment in which the coach sends in his star quarterback to save the game.

The team seems to have been wobbling a bit. They have been getting their signals mixed, over at London; they have been missing tackles, and fumbling, and showing other signs of disorganization.

And now the new quarterback, after a final conference with the coach, dashes out to take his place in the lineup. What will happen next? A new drive for the goal—a new solidarity and a new form of teamwork, a new bit of strategy that will prove irresistible? We can all hope so, at any rate.

REVENUE FROM BEER.

When the beer bill was being put through Congress, it was estimated that the taxes accruing from the sale of the beverage would bring the federal treasury approximately $150,000,000 a year. It begins to look now as if this estimate were far too low.

To yield that much revenue, the beer industry would have to sell 30,000,000 barrels a year—an average of slightly more than 82,000 barrels a day. During the first 24 hours of legal beer, reliable estimates put the total sales at between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 barrels.

To be sure, sales will not continue in anything like that volume. But even if they go on only at a tenth of that rate—which is surely a conservative estimate—the tax revenue will be far greater than $150,000,000 a year.

It looks as if the beer tax will be a far more important revenue producer than anyone had dared to hope.

REMEMBERING EX-PRESIDENTS.

The Philadelphia millionaire who died the other day and left a fund to provide life incomes of $1200 a year for widows of presidents of the United States had an idea which the government itself might well consider.

We make no provision for our ex-presidents. When they go back to private life they go all the way back, and if the nation they served is to give them a living they have to earn it.

That, in a democracy, is fair enough. But it would hardly be out of place for a democracy to make some regular provision for the presidents' widows. Few of our presidents have left large estates at their death. In some cases their widows have known real want. The job of providing for them ought not to be left to private bequests as this one in Philadelphia.

The deaf are a proud folk; they never beg. I've worked among them for 50 years and I never knew a deaf beggar.—Dr. Thomas Francis Fox, retiring master of the New York School for the Deaf.

It is doubtful whether the pampered child-and-a-half of the average American family today is better than the child of a former generation with eight or nine brothers and sisters.—Dr. Barton C. Hirst, Philadelphia eugenics expert.

There is no substitute for the comradeship of father and son.—Dr. Donald A. Laird, Colgate psychologist.

If there is one subject on which my knowledge is less than it is on income tax returns, I do not know it.—Otto H. Kahn (who paid no income tax for 1930, 1931 or 1932).

World-wide conditions were a contributory cause to our disaster, but we must admit our deplorable state is largely of our own creation.—Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas.

A rift has come in the "perfect romance" of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, for ten years regarded as filmdom's most devoted couple. Mary, in Hollywood, tearfully confirmed reports of trouble, and said that a separation is contemplated, adding that if they were divorced the grounds would be incompatibility. This picture is the last one taken of the two before Doug went to Europe.

Daily Health Talk

METHYLENE BLUE IN POISONING

When a fatal dose of hydrocyanic acid is swallowed, the symptoms usually appear within a few seconds and death may follow within 5 or 10 minutes. Because of this, no effective antidote against cyanide poisoning has been available.

Recently, however, several cases of cyanide poisoning have been reported, in one of which extraordinary results were obtained by the intravenous administration of a dye solution (methylene blue).

In July, 1932, three men were brought by ambulance to a San Francisco hospital. These men had collapsed immediately after taking a drink of liquor containing cyanide. They were seen within 15 minutes of their collapse.

Routine treatment was administered to the unconscious victims, but each one of them succumbed, one within 20 minutes, another within 30 minutes, and the third within approximately 2½ hours.

Realizing the futility of the treatment used in these cases, Dr. P. J. Hanzlik, of the Stanford University School of Medicine, and Dr. C. D. Leake, of the University of California Medical School, were asked to study the problem. It was they who recommended methylene blue.

On September 5, 1932, a young man was brought to a San Francisco hospital in an unconscious state. His friends stated that he had taken poison in a suicide attempt.

This young man was immediately given an injection of approximately 2 ounces of a 1 per cent sterile water solution of methylene blue. Within a very short time he began to move and in 5 minutes he was conscious and appeared essentially normal. Recovery was complete within 15 minutes. The man, formerly a medical student, wrote his own statement of his experiences half an hour later.

VAILE AND O'MALLEY

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Of course Scouty's loop trick turned out grand. The Tynmites gave him a hand, and Windy said, "Let's see you rop the loop over yonder rock."

"Then, if you pull it good and tight, I will do a stunt that is a sight." "Why, sure," snapped Scouty. "I could throw this coil of rope a block."

He did just as he said he would. The lasso man cried, "That was good!" And then he turned to see Windy and exclaimed "It's up to you! I don't know what your stunt can be, but I'll stand right here till I see. I hope, if you're successful, I'll at least be something new."

Then Windy jumped up on the rope. "Well, here I go," he said. "I hope that I don't take a bad tumble. I am a tight-rope walker, see?"

He walked a bit and turned around. Then, as he slipped off to the ground, he said, "Well, that was far enough. At least it was for me."

Wee Goldy cried, "It's now my turn. If you will watch me you all will learn how little girls jump rope. It is really not so hard to do."

"Please wait," said Doty. "I am in this. It is a stunt I would not miss." And then they jumped together, and it was real clever, too.

Soon Doty sighed, "If everyone is to have their little fling at fun, I too, will entertain the bunch. I lasso pretty well."

He took a coil of rope in hand and whirled it round to beat the band. Then something funny happened that made all the Tynmites yell.

"The rope's caught in his legs, I guess," cried Coppy. "My, but it's a mess. Just look! He's getting tangled up. He never will get out."

Poor Doty finally dropped the rope. Said he, "You're satisfied, I hope! Oh, well, I just don't know what lassoing is all about." (The lasso man does the best trick of all in the next story.)

SPORTS

LOTS OF ACTION
FEATURED MAPLES
SHOW LAST NIGHT

Air Was Full of Leather
During The Whole
Six-Bout Card

The Dixon Athletic Club presented another feature program at the Crawford Maples arena last evening to a good sized crowd of fans who were amply repaid. The bill one week ago was said to be the best that has ever been presented locally and last night's show was fully its equal. The fans saw rather thrown from every angle and with one possible exception each bout was hotly contested.

Ray Wilson, Dixon's knockout heavyweight, did not have a chance to appear on the bill because of an order from the Representative of the State Boxing Commission, George Kitteringham, of Rockford, who declared Bob Peterson of Peoria, who was to have met him, out of his class and another bout in the 135 pound class was substituted. John Doty of this city met a hard customer in McLean Wallack of Springfield Valley instead.

Legion To Sponsor Show
Next week's show will be sponsored by Dixon Post No. 12, American Legion and the advance seat sale opened this morning. Tickets may be procured in advance from any member of the post with no increase in the price rates. The fans will have the opportunity of witnessing Elwood "Kid" McReynolds, Dixon's colored flash, in the feature bout of the bill against Ted Huston of Davenport, Iowa. Clint Ensey of Mt. Morris, who lost his battle last night to Al Yeager of Peoria, will also appear on the program in the 135 pound division.

Gene Stamm of Peoria won the judges' decision in the opening bout of last evening's card when he defeated Eddie Carlson of this city in three rounds. Both boxers sent in powerful blows throughout the first and in the second, Carlson appeared to have the best of the opening minutes, but Stamm stepped out of the receiving end toward the close and sent in some hard punches. Both boxers showed plenty of action in the final, and were timing when the gong sounded.

Harmonite's Debut
Hugh Hermes of Harmon made his initial bow to the fans in the second bout, winning his first battle by a technical knockout over Tony Appino of Dixon, a newcomer, in the 165 pound class. Appino was inexperienced, from all outward appearances, and offered very weak defense to the rain of ringing blows which the Harmonite reigned in to the head. Referee Jack Sharkey halted the bout after about two minutes of mauling, raising Hermes' hand and declaring him the winner.

Clint Ensey of Mt. Morris, another newcomer to the fans, made a fine showing against the clever Al Yeager of Peoria in the 135 pound division. Ensey started very strong and carried the fight to the Peorian in the first round and sent in some telling punches. Yeager opened up with his stock of blows in the second and both fighters sent leather flying fast and furious. Ensey took some powerful blows to the face and body and after the third round had progressed two and one-half minutes. Referee Jack Sharkey interfered again, raising Yeager's hand, giving him the battle. Ensey's left eye was almost closed and he tired rapidly toward the finish.

The fourth fight on the program brought two former Golden Gloves

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
WHAT? NO FIGHT!

Primo Carnera is tearing a leaf from the book of our latter-day champions when he announces he will wait until 1934 to defend his heavyweight title. Which leaves Max Baer right out on a limb where there are no coconuts.

The opinion in this corner is that the waiting will do Mister Baer more good than it will Carnera. A year of idleness will be of no help to all that flesh. Movies and vaudeville are not very good conditioners.

MORE BUCKS—
Carnera must replenish his bankroll. His share of the fight with Sharkey was something like $16,397. Under the judicious handling of Bill Duffy, this amount can be run up to well over $100,000 with movie and vaudeville contracts of the sort that a champion can expect in these days of increasing costs of living.

You can depend upon Mister Duffy's knowing the quotations of all the stocks, including his 275 pounds of prime beef.

Da Preem undoubtedly will make enough to pay off that champions into the ring. Danny Steer of Peoria and Joe Chivateri of Marseilles in the 118 pound division. This was a battle from the start, both boys trying to win and the onlookers had plenty of entertainment in the art of punching. Both were clever boxers, each packing a hard punch in either glove. Steer outboxed his opponent in the second and third and won the judge's decision.

Substitute Fight
The semi-windup saw two substitutes for the Wilson-Peterson heavyweight bout. Johnny Doty of the Dixon state hospital went into the ring against McLean Wallack of Springfield Valley, a rangy puncher with lots of kick in each glove. Wallack was the stronger of the two and Doty did well to stay for the finish. In the second Doty was down for the nine count from repeated hard blows to the head and was bleeding from the nose. He came back with all of his customary gameness and opened a gash over Wallack's left eye in the third round. Both showed signs of their exertion in the previous rounds toward the finish. Mailack was given the decision.

The final bout of the evening was filled with action, there not being a dull second in any of the nine minutes of fighting. Preston "Grandpa" Laurette of Marseilles, who has become a most popular boxer with the Dixon crowds, was matched with Clyde Dushane of St. Davids in the 127 pound class. The bout saw more blows landed than any of the evening and the pair continued at this stride until the final gong, when Laurette was awarded the decision.

Do You Remember?

$14,000 breach of promise judgment that Mlle. Tersini, the well-known waitress, obtained in a London court. But the speculative urge is not strong enough in this corner to try to buy that claim in the hope of profitable settlement.

JUST A WORKOUT—

Duffy's decision to keep his big guy out of the ring leaves Baer with one choice if he wants to fight this fall, and you can just bet he does. That is a fight with Sharkey.

This sounds like rather cold potatoes in view of the form Mr. Sharkey displayed against Carnera, but Sharkey might provide a pretty good boxing workout for Maxie at that.

It appears to be a fight that cannot go beyond 10 rounds. Sharkey has lost too much of his stamina to stay long against the punch-throwing Baer. When a fighter passes 30, and has lived in idleness as Sharkey has during the last two years, an inner tissue of fat sews itself into his body, and training will not take it off.

Baer would overpower Sharkey just as Primo did. And maybe quicker.

Horseshoe Pitchers Assn. Plans Title Tournament

London, O., July 7—(AP)—The National Horseshoe Pitchers Association has decided it is time baseball, boxing, football and other organized sports were moving over and making room for sinewy-armed fingers of the ancient barnyard pastime.

R. B. Howard of London, second vice-president of the association and editor of the organization's monthly, "Horseshoe World," is calling attention to advancement of the sport in connection with announcements of a world's championship tournament July 27-31 at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition.

"Here is a golden opportunity," he says, "to sell horseshoe pitching to the world and show the skill that has been developed in the game."

Players in the world's tournament must have uniforms just as though they were in a world series baseball game. Shirts and trousers, or knickerbockers, must be white, with two black stripes down the outside seam of each leg. Stripes are to be one-fourth inch wide and half an inch apart. Each player is to wear an emblematic horseshoe sewed on his shirt.

The battle of ringers and double ringers will attract the best horseshoe tossers in the United States, and maybe from Canada, Mexico, and other countries. Howard predicts. Besides a world title, medals and trophies there will be 24 cash prizes ranging from $300 to $10.

WALKER LOOKED ALL WASHED UP IN BOSTON RING

Took Terrific Beating From Louis Brouillard

Boston, July 7—(AP)—Bitter Mickey Walker's best fighting days are behind him, or he can't battle a foeman smaller than himself.

The Rumson Bulldog engaged Lou Brouillard of Worcester last night in the Boston Garden's 10-round feature bout and took a terrific lacing.

Although he was nine pounds heavier at 170, and two inches taller than Brouillard, Mickey was on the defensive during all but two rounds. He was able to launch only a few of his famous looping punches and none made impression on the middleweight.

Brouillard rushed Walker for the first four rounds, during which he landed many a solid right to the body and jarring left hooks to the head. Then he eased up.

Walker, however, was unwilling to become the aggressor, although he managed to shade Brouillard during the long-range exchanges in the fourth and fifth sessions. Brouillard went into high gear again in the sixth and gave Mickey a battering until the final bell.

A left to the body staggered Walker in the sixth and a similar blow threatened to put him down in the ninth. The veteran's courage and experience saved him from complete humiliation.

The struggle drew a crowd of 16,000. Victory probably put Brouillard well along the road to a midweight title bout and Walker's defeat may rob him of a crack at the light heavyweight diadem.

Oak Ridge To Meet Walton Sunday P. M.

The Oak Ridge baseball team will be confronted with strong opposition Sunday afternoon when they clash with Walton on the Ridge diamond. Walton has lost only one game this season and in "Sandy" Cosgrove have one of the best pitchers in this vicinity. Cosgrove won the decision over Smokey Joe Miller in a pitcher's battle early in the season when the Ridge team lost to Walton on the latter's field by a score of 6 to 5. Since losing to Walton, Oak Ridge has piled up a record of seven wins and two losses. The fans will see "Shires" Miller of the Ridge third base position and Joe Sweeney, second baseman for Walton, both hard hitters who registered home runs in the first meeting of the season.

Walton Victor In Holiday Contests

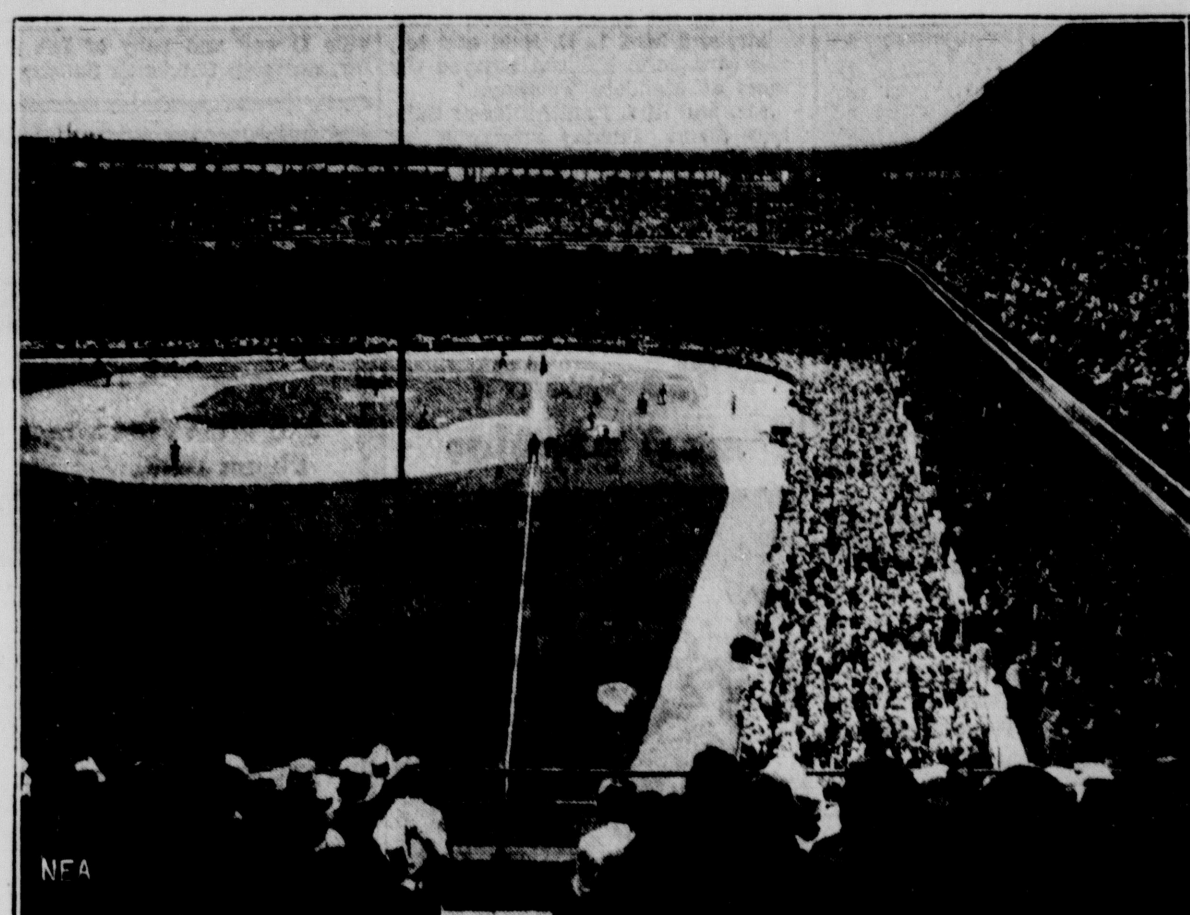

On July 4, the Walton baseball team won a double header game on the home diamond, defeating Lee Center in the first game by a score of 16 to 5. Larry Cosgrove, young brother of "Sandy" Cosgrove, held Lee Center to six hits and fanned nine batters while Walton gathered 13 hits off Dunsmuth. In the second game Walton defeated Ohio by a score of 6 to 4 behind the pitching of Sandy Cosgrove, who allowed eight scattered hits and fanned 17 batters. Walton gathered ten hits off the delivery of Etheridge. Bill Welty was the leading hitter for Walton, gathering a home run and four singles. Doyle Morrissey also had a home run and three singles, while Leo Bushman collected a double and three singles. On Sunday, Walton will meet Oak Ridge on the Ridge diamond.

MAJOR LEAGUES RESUME NORMAL COURSE OF GAME

Western Nationals To Dig In Against Eastern Foes

By The Associated Press
With their all-star argument a matter of record, major league clubs, with some exceptions, returned to the normal course of baseball today, inaugurating new inter-sectional series in both circuits.

The Western National League clubs, who suffered painful reverses in their recent tour of the east, resumed their home stands against eastern opposition while the American Leaguers from the midlands, figuring perhaps they could do no worse on the road, began an attempt to beat the powerful eastern clubs in their own dens.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who lost 13 of 21 games on the road, 10 of them in the east, opened at home against the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Cincinnati Reds, who won only four games of 16 in the east, tackled the revived Boston Braves, and the Chicago Cubs dug in to withstand an invasion by the New York Giants, leading the National League by 5 1/2 games. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were to begin hostilities tomorrow.

In the American League, the only games scheduled sent the Detroit Tigers against the Yankees at New York, and the Chicago White Sox against the Athletics at Philadelphia. The St. Louis-Boston and Washington-Cleveland series are to open tomorrow.

We advise Dixon shoppers to read the ads in the Telegraph. It means a saving of money to every shopper. There are some specials in today's Telegraph.

KIDNAP VICTIM IS RELEASED BY BOY AFTER HIS APPEAL

Atlanta Banker Talks His Captor Into Letting Him Go Free

Atlanta, Ga., July 7—(AP)—A high school boy who helped kidnap John K. Ottley, 65-year-old banker and sportsman, said today that he did it so he could gain the victim's gratitude by helping him escape.

Offering aid in the hunt for a companion in the abduction, the youth told officers he was James Pryor Bowen, 17, son of a Lavonia, Ga., farmer. He said an older man had engineered the plot.

As Ottley, president of the First National Bank and a horseman of national reputation, drove toward his office, a fruit peddler hailed him. When the banker stopped the peddler pushed a gun against his ribs.

The banker was ordered into the back seat, he said, and the Bowen youth, seated, slid under the wheel and drove him away as the peddler kept guard. Blindfolded, Ottley was driven to a woods near Suwanee, thirty miles north of Atlanta, and forced to write a note to his wife asking $40,000 ransom.

The peddler left with the note. Ottley said he talked to the boy about the gravity of the situation and the youth released him. Together they went to Suwanee where Ottley telephoned his home. The boy was taken in custody.

Young Bowen said he came to Atlanta to get a job and met the fruit peddler. The peddler, he said, proposed a deal whereby the youth would get $10,000 easy by "kidnaping a rich man."

"He told me that all I had to do was drive the car and stay with the man while he went back and saw to getting the money," the youth went on. "I figured if that was all I had to do I would go along and let the man go free as soon as I could. If he was a very rich man he would be my friend."

Kuechler, 63, of Park Street, Elgin, was on file today in the Kane county Circuit Court. The plaintiff is a widow and Kuechler a dealer in real estate mortgages, is a widower.

BOOK A DAY

A ROMAN GHOST IN AN ENGLISH HOUSE
By Bruce Catton

One mystery story that might give you a few pleasant chills on a hot summer night is "He Arrived at Dawn" by R. C. Ashby.

This one has to do with funny business in an old English country house the funny business being apparently caused by the ghost of a Roman centurion, dead these 1600 years and more. A young London curio-shop owner gets mixed up in it and tells his friend, the Scotland Yard man; and it's all explained satisfactorily in the end, but not before a bit of blood is spilled and a lot of excitement is stirred up.

Taken by end large, it's a satisfactory yarn of the creepy variety. It was inevitable that someone would sooner or later work the Centre of Progress affair into a detective tale. John Ashenbush has done it in "The World's Fair Murders" telling how a distinguished European scientist gets plugged in full sight of thousands of visitors at the Fair, how a mysterious death ray machine is found in a taxi and how the professor's corpse disappears en route back to Europe. It's all very puzzling if you can keep your mind on it.

By this time you've probably heard about "Obelisks at Sea," by C. Dely King. A capitalist gets murdered on an ocean liner, and four assorted psychologists volunteer to lay the finger on the murderer. Successively they pick four innocent

PUBLICITY BIG WEAPON IN NEW SECURITIES ACT

New Federal Legislation Becomes Effective Tomorrow

Editor's Note: This is another of a series of articles by staff writers of The Associated Press explaining new laws enacted by the last Congress.

By WILLIAM L. BEALE
Washington, July 7.—(AP)—Publicity is the principal weapon by which the securities act, passed at the last session of Congress, seeks to save investors from being sold worthless stocks and bonds.

But it also makes any fraudulent scheme of misleading act perpetrated in an interstate sale of securities a federal offense, and allows buyers to sue the issuers and underwriters if the latter make untrue statements or omit material facts in connection with the sale. The law actually begins to take effect July 7. From that day on, issuers of securities are permitted to register their offerings with the Federal Trade Commission. But after July 27, they have no choice, must register issues before offering them to the public.

Signers Liable
To register, the issuing firm must state to commission every "material" fact bearing on the soundness of the offerings. Every principal official and the majority of the directors of the issuing firm must sign this statement, and every signer will be liable for suits to recover amounts paid for stocks or bonds, if material facts are omitted or untrue statements are included. Further, criminal action may be brought in cases of willful violation.

The law does not guarantee buyers against loss, but it does make available to anyone who wants them the true financial facts of the business behind the new issues. Securities now on the market are not touched by the law, and domestic public issues, securities of non-profit organizations, building and loan associations, etc., are exempt. Special terms govern foreign issues.

WHO IS THE MAN?

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

Some men, it seems, are never happy unless they are miserable. In front of me on the train a group were talking of the world situation, one having shown clearly that there is not a gleam of hope anywhere in the world—not a spark. He was surprisingly happy about it, too, almost gleeful, as if it gave him a lot of satisfaction, if not joy.

"There's only one man," he said, "who could put things right today. His clear eye and firm hand could do it. Nobody else can."

"Who's that?" he was asked. "For the love of heaven, tell us who the magician is who can un-

THREE GUESSES

(Answers on Page 9)

tangle the knot. He's the man we need."

"Abraham Lincoln," he replied, with an air of finality. "He could do the job in a jiffy. Nobody else can touch it."

"Rise up, ye dead!" said his neighbor. "We are in a bad way indeed if only a voice from the grave can tell us the way out of the mess."

"Makes me think of the fairy story," said another, "where the queen says there was jam yesterday, and there will be jam tomorrow, but there is no jam today. That's pessimism at its blackest."

As the train pulled into the station, I was left wondering why men look to the past for leadership, as if the living must not fight their own battles and make their own jam. It has been so always, no matter how far back we go—over long lament of the race. Is it because we look at the evil not yet conquered, and forget the good which has displaced a thousand evils? Or is it because, in our day especially, we have grown so cynical about ourselves, so much the victims of modern ideas which belittle the spirit of man, that great leaders find few who have the courage to follow?

After all, perhaps my pessimist friend had a dim vision of a truth when he looked into the past for light. Only he did not look back far enough. Yes, there is only one Man who could put things right, but we lack the nerve to follow Him, because we fear it will mean peril and hardship, and not the easy, unearned victory we want.

News of the Churches

GOOD THOUGHTS

Pride goeth before destruction
and an haughty spirit before a fall.
Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud.

—Proverbs 16.

Human pride, which boasts of its independence, must be lowered before the flag of enlightenment in God can be held aloft in all seasons. All fear and sin can be destroyed as humanity turns meekly for enlightenment to divine Mind and obeys its mandates.

—The Christian Science Journal

Pride looks back upon its past deeds, and calculating with nicely
what it has done, it commits itself to rest; whereas humility looks to that which is before and discovering how much ground remains to be trodden, it is active and vigilant.
Having gained one height, pride looks down with complacency on what is beneath it; humility looks up to a higher and yet higher elevation.

—James McCash

What is pride? a whizzing rocket that would emulate a star.

—Wordsworth

Earthly pride is like the passing flower, that springs to fall, and blossoms but to die.

—H. K. White

Pride and weakness are Siamese twins.

—Lowell

If a man has a right to be proud of anything, it is of a good action done as it ought to be, without any base interest lurking at the bottom of it.

BARRETT COLVIN, back in New York after years abroad, falls in love with ELINOR STAF-FORD. He is 35 and she is 20.
Elinor returns his affection but her jealous, scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD, breaks up the romance by convincing Barrett that Elinor was only flirting with him.

Rich MISS ELLA SEXTON, Eli-nor's aunt, dies and, to the despair of the relatives, leaves her entire fortune to Barrett. Lida Stafford has been flirting with VANCE CARTER. When Vance learns she will not divorce her husband, BENTWELL STAF-FORD, he shoots Bentwell. It is uncertain whether the wounded man will live or die.

Barrett does not want Miss Ella's money but can not give it back to the rightful inheritors because of his pride. Suddenly a plan comes to him. He tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live as a guest in his home for a year he will give her the entire sum to divide between her relatives.

Knowing the money may save her father's life, Elinor agrees.
They decide to have the ceremony
next day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIII

ELINOR'S voice came over the wire a trifle unsteady. "Yes, Barrett," she said.

"Dearest, Art Palmer—I mean Doctor Palmer—" he corrected himself mockingly, "wants to know whether you want to be spliced—I think he said—in his church?"

Her voice trembled even more.
It was the way he had said "Dearest."

"I'd like it very much if you would."

"I'd like it very much anywhere," he assured her. He added,
"Is everything going along as it should?" He could not deny the tenderness he felt for her. After all, the situation she was facing would be difficult for any girl.

"Oh, yes!" she assured him.
"Quite certain!"

"May I drop in this evening?
There are a few things I want to talk about."

"Please do."

"Then—until this evening, dearest," he said a bit too loudly. He heard her half-whispered, "Goodbye."

Arthur Palmer was studying a paper knife which he twisted in his hands. He had known Barrett
